Re: Sailing around the world

We as Diabetes South Africa give you permission to use our logo and name in raising funds and awareness for your project/sailing trip around the world starting with training in August 2010 and the trip in September 2011.

You may contact other organizations in the diabetes field all over the world using us as a reference and a hand in the door.

You may register your project on back a buddy and the funds would have to go through Diabetes South Africa.

A donation of 25 % will be made to Diabetes South Africa once the initial race fee of £36000 is paid, the remainder will be used for flights etc

We encourage anyone in the Diabetes industry who would like to get involved to contact Eddie as this is going to be a world wide event with a lot of exposure.

Eddie is available to do meet and greets as well as functions at any of the stops around the world. Eddie is in need of funding as this is a very large venture and as a diabetic could be a dangerous one.

Eddie has been cleared by his physician to undertake the race and is practicing and exercising as well as keeping his diabetes under control.

Yours sincerely
